

STACY WHITE

Sales Director UK&I

Stacy joined Fast Lane in October 2012 as the Sales Director for UK & Ireland following a career break which he used to travel the world.

Stacy has over 11 years of experience within the education space having previously worked for the UK's leading training company.

Stacy is a hands on Sales Director who has a collaborative approach to sales. He has responsibility for developing the relationships with partners and customers in addition to the ongoing development of the sales organisation and its strategy.

Outside of work Stacy enjoys travelling the world when he can and when he can't, he likes to spend time with family and friends.
