

Microsoft Azure Role-Based Learning Paths

Today's jobs are more complex and specialized than ever, especially in the area of cloud technologies. To be effective in your job you need specific training on the products and services you use in your role, and in the way you use them in your role. In order to most effectively support businesses of today on their Azure rollouts, Fast Lane provides full capabilities to support the learning and certification paths for Microsoft's official Azure Administrator, Azure Developer and Azure Solution Architect – three of the most critical Azure roles today.
